

Are you updating your A-Z list with your new Infobase assets? Use the product logos and descriptions below to gain more usage.

Streaming Video Resources
	Brought to you in partnership with Criterion Pictures USA, Feature Films for Education is a streaming video resource providing access to award-winning feature films for educational and instructional purposes. Enhance student learning and drive engagement by integrating blockbuster films, literary adaptations, and classic animated movies into your instruction and class time.
	Films On Demand Allied Health Collection is a video library that prepares students for practice across a diverse range of healthcare settings. Includes programs from trusted producers such as Elsevier, NEVCO, Center for Phlebotomy Education, InJoy Health Education, Classroom Productions, and Medivision. All Films On Demand collections include unlimited views, a full statistical suite, and tools to create clips, share playlists and build in-video assessments.
	Films On Demand Career and Technical Education Collection is an extensive video library of career guidance and technical skills-focused videos to support college readiness and vocational training pathways. Discover resources on ever-evolving careers, real-world leaders in emerging fields, and study skill materials to enhance college and career readiness including interview tips, best practices, and résumé resources. All Films On Demand collections include unlimited views, a full statistical suite, and tools to create clips, share playlists and build in-video assessments.
	Films On Demand Master Academic Collection is a comprehensive, instruction-focused streaming video subscription that offers every student and academic department on campus unlimited access to the most essential videos for their field of study. Includes exceptional content from the world's top producers, such as PBS, BBC, A&amp;E, National Geographic, and HBO®. All Films On Demand collections include unlimited views, a full statistical suite, and tools to create clips, share playlists and build in-video assessments.
	Films On Demand Nursing Core Collection is a professionally curated streaming video collection that provides students with evergreen content in core areas of the nursing curriculum. Find foundational content covering all areas of practice, nursing across the lifespan, professional development, and more. All Films On Demand collections include unlimited views, a full statistical suite, and tools to create clips, share playlists and build in-video assessments.
	Films On Demand Nursing Current Concepts &amp; Practices Collection is a professionally curated streaming video collection that helps to prepare students for the NCLEX exam by providing coverage of the most current concepts and practices in nursing today, as well as covering emerging areas. All Films On Demand collections include unlimited views, a full statistical suite, and tools to create clips, share playlists and build in-video assessments.

	The Films On Demand Physical Therapy Collection brings together videos on foundational topics, such as movement science, and different therapeutic interventions, like massage and sports medicine. Concepts and techniques come to life, helping students to learn and practice vital skills. All Films On Demand collections include unlimited views, a full statistical suite, and tools to create clips, share playlists and build in-video assessments.
	The Films On Demand Veterinary Science Collection offers foundations in animal anatomy, physiology, and behavior while also helping students to learn basic veterinary procedures and to gain an understanding of the veterinary workplace. All Films On Demand collections include unlimited views, a full statistical suite, and tools to create clips, share playlists and build in-video assessments.
	The World Cinema Collection connects educators and students with classic and groundbreaking films from around the world. Supports students in a range of classes from political science, history, world languages, film studies, and more. All Films On Demand collections include unlimited views, a full statistical suite, and tools to create clips, share playlists and build in-video assessments.

Reference & Research Databases

 African-American History	African-American History is a multimedia research database encompassing books, articles, videos, slideshows, timelines, primary sources, landmark court decisions, and full-text speeches that document more than 500 years of African-American history. Browse efficiently or take a deep dive via 20 thoughtfully curated Topic Centers, organized by subject and era. With curriculum tools that support both students and instructors, African-American History is a key resource for learning research skills alongside vital historical information.
 American History	American History is a multimedia research database spanning U.S. history from the colonial era to the present. Students can search for targeted resources—including articles, biographies, videos, and primary sources—or build broad background knowledge exploring Topic Centers organized by era or theme. Curriculum tools, slideshows, maps, and charts help instructors create dynamic teaching materials. Drive American history coursework with the most comprehensive range of information in one complete resource.
 American Indian History	American Indian History is a comprehensive multimedia research database offering curated information covering more than 600 Native American groups. Survey 15,000 years of history through articles, biographies, primary sources, and videos, or dig into Topic Centers curated by era, subject, or culture area—from the Arctic to the Southwest. With a wealth of materials that center the perspectives and experiences of indigenous peoples, American Indian History is a vital resource for all students and instructors examining the history of the Americas.
 Ancient & Medieval History	Ancient and Medieval History is a comprehensive research database offering multimedia content that covers the origins of human society through the mid-1500s. Make connections between eras, regions, and civilizations through curated Topic Centers and chart the rise and fall of historic empires with articles, biographies, primary sources, maps, timelines, and videos. With a Major Themes

	section that breaks topics down into digestible units and discussion questions, Ancient and Medieval History provides points of entry into critical historical concepts for students and instructors alike.
 Bloom's Literature	Bloom's Literature is a one-of-a-kind multimedia research database offering both full-text literary works and the criticism, analysis, and supplementary materials that put them into context. Learn in different modalities with a robust multimedia collection that includes hundreds of documentaries, interviews, and podcasts. Suggested essay topics support instructors in building courses and assignments and provide students with points of entry into important texts. From Shakespeare to contemporary works, Bloom's is where literature lives.
	Credo Reference is an award-winning academic resource delivering premier reference content and images on a simple, instruction-friendly platform. Browse citable background information on any topic, learn basic resource evaluation, and dig into interactive Mind Maps that encourage exploration. The federated search integrates seamlessly with other major library resources, driving even deeper discovery. Smart research starts with Credo.
Ferguson's Career Guidance Center	Ferguson's Career Guidance Center is a multimedia resource library of career content that gives users the information, skills, and expert advice they need to design the career path that's right for them. Turn passions into actionable career goals with a comprehensive career interest assessment and up-to-date profiles of diverse industries, fields, and roles. Curated articles, videos, and tools support all phases of career planning—from financing an education to nailing an interview—for all jobseekers, including those from distinct populations. Land your dream job with Ferguson's.
 Health Reference Center	Health Reference Center is a multimedia health library offering up-to-date resources that build practical health knowledge. Articles, videos, tools, and curated links help users understand the body and its functions as well as the practices, guidelines, and interventions that support mental and physical well-being. Browse health centers with materials curated for distinct populations—children, teens, women, men, and seniors—or learn about hundreds of individual medical conditions, drugs, procedures, and tests.
 History Research Center	History Research Center cross-references six multimedia databases covering American and world history from prehistory to modern times. Make connections, build knowledge, and support arguments across eras, cultures, and geographic regions with rich multimedia content that includes primary sources, videos, articles, maps, timelines, and slideshows. From broad survey courses to focused assignments, History Research Center supports deep historical inquiry.
Information Literacy – Core	Information Literacy – Core is standards-aligned multimedia courseware focused on information literacy skills, built on and aligned with the ACRL Framework for Information Literacy for Higher Education. Fully customizable, with extensive assessment capabilities, InfoLit – Core is easy to integrate and use in formal courses, one-shot sessions, or point-of-need instruction.

Information Literacy – Health Science	Information Literacy – Health Science is standards-aligned multimedia courseware focused on information literacy skill-building through the lens of health science. Fully customizable, with extensive assessment capabilities, InfoLit – Health Science is easy to integrate and use in formal courses, one-shot sessions, or point-of-need instruction.
 Issues &amp; Controversies	Issues &amp; Controversies is a multimedia research database offering constantly updated pro/con articles and carefully curated supplementary sources that together present political and social issues clearly, coherently, and without bias. Probe hundreds of topics—including recent events, timely cultural questions, and ongoing elections—from different angles in order to write analytically, debate with confidence, develop critical-thinking skills, and connect coursework to current events.
Issues &amp; Controversies IN HISTORY	Issues &amp; Controversies in History is a multimedia research database that places users at the center of great debates in U.S. and world history through unbiased pro/con articles and curated primary sources, videos, and discussion questions that add key context. Browse hundreds of important arguments and questions—organized by era, region, or subject—that raise the stakes of historical coursework and infuse it with vitality and urgency. Think critically about history and how it is interpreted with Issues &amp; Controversies in History.
 Modern World History	Modern World History is a multimedia research database offering a comprehensive look at world history from the Renaissance to today. Build broad background knowledge with in-depth articles, primary sources, videos, maps, and timelines, or trace one of 26 major themes—broken down into units and discussion questions—across the span of modern history. Analyze the historical people, places, events, and ideas that shaped the present with Modern World History.
 Polling the Nations	Polling the Nations is an easy-to-navigate database of more than 18,000 public opinion polls conducted from 1986 to the present, including original polling questions and results. Browse polls by topic, location, or source, and view methodological details like sample size on each poll. Use Polling the Nations to ground history, sociology, and political science coursework in real-life data or to add depth to any scholarly project concerned with how people feel about the world in which they live.
 Science Online	Science Online is a multimedia reference database that supports the learning and teaching of science. Students can review key concepts with easy-to-understand articles, diagrams, and videos or explore STEM jobs via career resources and profiles of renowned innovators. eLearning modules, interactive experiments, and curricular tools offer instructors ready-made content to supplement or refresh courses across the scientific disciplines. With a curated Reuters® feed of relevant science news, Science Online is the hub where STEM fundamentals meet their real-world applications.
 Today's Science	Today's Science is a database of comprehensive summaries that translate scientific articles from peer-reviewed journals and other publications into everyday language, making cutting-edge discoveries accessible to users of all levels, from any discipline. Enrich coursework with video news segments, interviews with scientists, crossword puzzles, and other materials that provide engaging points of entry into an array of science topics.

 World News Digest	World News Digest is a news archive that provides critical context and background on key issues and events in the news going back to 1940. Explore more than 350,000 rigorously fact-checked original articles—written in a clear and unbiased style—as well as research features, editorial cartoons, and vetted content from social media and streaming video sites. Connect historical events with current events using these timely resources.
 World Religions	World Religions is a reference database that provides in-depth content on 15 of the world’s major religions and spiritual practices. Browse curated Topic Centers for each faith, read full-text sacred books and primary sources, and watch more than 1,800 videos that explore religious beliefs and document traditions from around the globe. With a curated Reuters® news feed that connects reference material to current events, World Religions is an up-to-date resource for the study of human belief systems and the social world.
 Writer's Reference Center THE FUNDAMENTALS OF QUALITY WRITING	Writer's Reference Center is a reference database of materials designed to hone writing and research skills. Users can review grammar fundamentals, refine their voice and style, learn to evaluate sources, and examine templates for common document types—including essays, cover letters, and resumes. Equally useful for first-year students and advanced scholars composing theses or dissertations, Writer's Reference Center answers the granular writing and research questions that instructors rarely have time to address.
<h3>eBook Subscriptions</h3>
 CREDO Reference	Thoughtfully curated from 45+ well-respected publishers of reference—including Sage, Elsevier, Springer, Wiley, F.A. Davis, and Omnigraphics—Credo Essentials Collections offer premier full-text reference content to support your institution’s flagship or emerging programs.

About Infobase

Infobase is the leading provider of educational content for schools, public libraries, and higher education. For more than 80 years, Infobase has curated award-winning reference databases, streaming video platforms, eBook collections, teacher resources, courseware, and more, helping more than 70 million learners. We facilitate the connection between content, people, and the learning experiences that empower you to evolve personally and professionally throughout your life.

Contact our experts today.

(800) 322-8755

collegeonline@infobase.com

Scan QR code to start a free trial.